Applying for a Working With Children Check

The Working with Children (WWC) Check was introduced by the Department of Justice in 2006 and aims to protect children (under the age of 18 years) from sexual and/or physical harm. People who work or volunteer in certain types of child-related work will be required to apply for a WWC Check. The Department of Justice has advised the International Education Division that people providing homestay accommodation will be required to obtain a WWC Check.

All homestay and Third Party Nomination providers are required to obtain Working with Children Checks for all persons over 18 years residing, or frequently residing, at the homestay premises.

This includes the primary homestay host and all family members aged over 18 years of age who are residing at the homestay premises.

Potential host families who refuse Working with Children Checks cannot host students under any circumstances.

Applications will be receipted by Australia Post and this receipt must be kept as evidence of submitting an application.

Applicants will automatically pass the WWC Check if they have no relevant criminal offences and will be issued with a WWC Check Card. This card is valid for five years and lists the applicants name, signature, photograph, expiry date and card type, i.e. voluntary.
